SENIORS USE PROFITS FOR CLASS MEMORIAL

More Than 800 See Performances of 'Charley's Aunt'; Meets With Approval

With more than 800 people attending the performances of "Charley's Aunt," the class play, the seniors will have $100 with which to establish a memorial.

In the play was painted by Robert McMillan. Both performances of the play were given well and kept the audiences in good humor. Special credit should be given the production staff who did as much as anyone to make the play a success. They were Margery Dellinger, Willard McMasters, John Schontz, and Lyle Ryan.

The cast presented Mr. Kelly, the director, with a gift of appreciation between the second and final acts of the play Friday evening.

All members of the cast played their respective parts well, and several have remarked that the presentation was one of the best senior plays ever produced.

The cast:
Robert McVey—Jack Chesney.
Drezel Moors—Charles Wykeham.
Lauretta Drayson—Kitty Verdun.
Lois Campbell—Betty Bradley.
Marion Brouse—Major Frank Chesney.
Lucile Leonard—Donna Lucia d'Alvadorez.
Jack Erickson—Tommy Babbs.
Evelyn Lincoln—Elaine Delahay.
William Thompson—Stephen Bradley.
Toncy Pedigo—Brassett.

Seniors Sneak to Lake For Sports and Dance

"Sneak Day" was celebrated by the seniors by going to Lake Bracken Tuesday afternoon. Individual programs were given to seniors. These contained the program of events and the members of the various committees for "Sneak Day" and the May Breakfast.

Marilouise Hite, chairman of the entertainment committee, planned the program. At two o'clock a baseball game was started. Later a swimming and diving exhibition was held. At three o'clock the seniors took part in a scavenger hunt. A tea dance was held from four till five o'clock and at five o'clock a light box lunch was served. This was planned by the food committee with Betty Riley as the chairman.

HONOR SOCIETY TOPS TWELVE GRADUATES

Seniors Present Refrigerator to High School, Gifts to Faculty

Following the annual senior farewell program, the National Honor Society, with President Ray Walker presiding, initiated twelve new members from the graduating class.

Those "tapped" were: Jane McMillan, Henry Smith, Jack Erickson, Lucile Leonard, Ruth Norris, William Thompson, Evelyn Linman, Dorothy Peterson, Ellen Norman, Betty Ann Stewart, Charles Russell and Lauretta Drayson.

The president then extended an invitation to all new members to attend the first annual National Honor Society banquet at Hawcock's at six-thirty yesterday evening.

Included in the senior program was the reading of the Last Will and Testament and the class prophecy.

An electrical refrigerator was presented to M. H. S. by the Class of '36 and gifts were presented to the faculty members.

Music was furnished by the Gondoliers.

Frank Nussle, assisted by Charles Russell and Betty Ann Stewart presented the prophecy. The presentation of gifts to the faculty was made by Henry Smith and Mary Louise Bolon. Willard McMaster, class president, presented the class gift to the school.

Coach Jebens presented to the Hall of Fame five pictures of those who became members of that distinguished group by virtue of winning five letters. These were Charles Shunick, Russell Waddell, James Davison, Gale Switzer, Arthur Johnson.

The committee in charge of the program was Mary Louise Bolon, chairman, Beulah Schaad, and Lloyd Ross.

Herschel Selby '35 worked at the new ice cream parlor last week.

Supt. Roy Fetherston.

Seniors Hold Class Breakfast; Willard McMasters Presides

Setting off an eventful day early in the morning, the annual senior breakfast was served to 140 graduates at Hawcock's at 6:30 yesterday.

An excellent morning meal was served after which an entertaining program was given.

Willard McMasters, senior president, acted as toastmaster and presided over the program. Members of the class delivered toasts to each individual year of their high school life. They were as follows: To Freshmen Year, Henry Smith; To Sophomore year, Drexe Moore; To Junior Year, Betty Ann Stewart; and To Senior Year, Gale Switzer.

Two musical numbers provided entertainment for the group. Lucile Leonard gave a vocal solo and Robert McVey a saxophone number.

Principal G. Ray Imbody addressed the group of graduates concerning their past and future in a message of good will.

Officers of the class of 1936 were Willard McMasters, who became president at the resignation of Gale Switzer earlier in the year, Mary Louise Bolon, secretary, and Ruth Norris, treasurer.

Miss Blau, one of three senior advisers, arranged and supervised all proceedings for the May breakfast.

Committees were selected for particular duties as follows:

Decoration committee—Mary Haben, chairman, Arthur Balding, James Parke, Ruth Abbey, Dorothy Ann Rowley, and George McKelvey.

Toast program—Jeanne Walker, chairman, Donald Brannon, and Elizabeth Linman.

Food committee—Martha Allsup, Mary Jane Martin and Maybelle Thomas.

Keith Ross ex '36 has gone to California to work during the summer months.

Will Enable Local System to Continue Without Wrecking Present Program

By a vote of more than four to one the taxpayers of District 38 indicated yesterday their willingness to increase the school tax levy from two dollars to three dollars in order that the local system may maintain its present standards.

As a result of the vote the school income will be increased from $74,000 to $112,000, the amount required annually for the present program. Had the voters not favored the increase, a drastic reduction in the length of the school term would have been inevitable.

The vote at the Harding School poll was 363 in favor of the increase and 63 against; at Willits, 491 in favor and 140 against; and at Central, 887 in favor and 169 against, a total of 1741 for and 372 against the increased levy.

PROJECTS GOOD SAYS CHEMISTRY INSTRUCTOR

Show More Complete This Year Than U Display in

"This year's chemistry projects show more completeness even if they aren't so elaborate," states Mr. Dixon, chemistry instructor.

A display of cosmetics made from the raw products by Garnet Murdoch and Evelyn White is especially good. A display on aluminum and its products by Charles Russell, one on ether by Harry Parker, a periodic chart by Charles Anderson and Marion Burgess and a display on petroleum and its products by Edward Parke are also good.

Other projects are: Wood distillation by Jack Erickson and Ray Powell, soap making by John McDonald, a lime plant by Dick Work, developing of films and the raw products by Ellen Strobel, Lucile Leonard, Jane McMillan, and Anna Grier, a display on the products of petroleum oil by Jean Long and Quentin Christensen, a display of fats by Donald Brannon, a complete assortment of petroleum products by Robert Fink, a display of explosives by Frank Hart and Leon Fernald, and a display on paint by Gale Switzer and Marguerite M.

SWAN SONG

The editor wishes to bid farewell to "Clipper" readers. It is his sincere hope that this year's "Clipper" has to some extent accomplished the purpose for which it stands, namely to keep students informed and interested in school activities by reflecting activities as they really are.

He wishes to thank his staff and all those who have made the publication of this issue and all issues of the past year possible.

REAL TRACK MEN

Vigilant for some well-deserved praise five freshmen on the track squad boys who didn't do much winning but who practiced hard. Higgins, Brooks, McKinnon, Pickett and Danu-

Other boys had the nerve to plug away without the incentive of laurels. But, unfortunately, a few varsity men were easily satisfied and didn't do their best to continue improving. Future prospects are good!

TO COACH JEBENS

Coach Jebens, who will go to the Yankton, South Dakota, next year, leaves a place in the esteem of faculty and students which will not be filled easily.

Although Jebens produced several championship teams in football and basketball, he had more than his share of lean years—chiefly because of competition with larger schools.

But in spite of a shortage of wins in recent seasons, Jebens retained the confidence and favor of both the school and the community. He could have stayed on indefinitely at M.H.S.! Under similar circumstances such a statement could not be made concerning many coaches.

TOO CLOSE

Constance Brown '39 had quite a scare while walking home after school recently. A large rooted limb fell from a tree on Second Avenue and one edge of it just grazed her nose.

In spite of the fact that she was thrilled she acted so calm after the accident occurred that several people who witnessed the incident thought she had been stunned.

Willard McMasters waited at the school house Friday night for the Senior Play Cast who failed to show up. He did not know they were not going to practice that night.

Jack Erickson is glad that he isn't a girl as the time he had getting into Charley's Aunt's costume was nearly too much for him.

The girls of the senior class play, Lauretta Drayson, Evelyn Lincoln, Lois Campbell, and Lucile Leonard had a difficult time learning that after years of dressing slowly to be late, for once they had to be on time.

Mildred Parrish told the second period journalism class that a man involved in a recent auto crash was fatally killed.

Charles Anderson has bet the sum of twenty-five cents that he will not marry for six years.

As a freshman Charles Anderson was the smallest boy in M. H. S.

Mrs. Garrett was seen in the middle of Broadway picking up trees. Explanation—Previously placed on the Garrett car, five maple trees (roots, plus) were whipped from the fender by the wind. Mrs. Garrett went after them.

Do you know that Donald Baldridge carries a young maid's vanity case. Well, its important during seventh period study hall to brush up a bit.

Robert McVey and Clarence Pedigo say four are not too many to ride in a coupe. Should we ask Evelyn Lincoln and Dorothy Lance?

Adeline Knepp thought she smelled baked ham Monday morning, May 18 and immediately became hungry. She later discovered that it was only the chemistry classes up to their old tricks.

Bill Adair treated the first and second period woodturning class with all-day suckers Wednesday.

Vera Lipes' favorite page in the Literary Digest is the "Topics in Brief" and not "The Spice of Life."

Several boys have gotten out a petition asking that there be a boys' class in cooking. So far 150 boys have signed up. The first thing such a class should learn is that grocery bills are due at the end of each month.

Screams and more screams could be heard in Miss Steadman's first period cooking class last Monday. "Oh, what is it?" said one, and then there was more screaming. "Don't scare the poor thing," said Miss Steadman. "Open the window." That thing was a bird that had come in through the open transom.

It's reported that Lauretta Drayson will receive a radio for graduation. The gift is being stored at the Y. M. C. A.

It's really spring when poems like this one are found written by Carol Kettering:

"My S. P."
 There is a boy I'm nuts about,
 He's tall and really handsome;

He hardly ever takes me out,
 But when he does we crash-em.

He 'most always calls me "Shorty"
 Of course you know I'm not;
 He thinks he's kinda tall-y,
 He also thinks he's hot.

I met him through a friend of mine,
 He asked me for a date;
 He took me for a buggy ride,
 I left him at the gate.

I went to bed at twelve that night,
 And dreamed about the heavens,
 I dreamed of only six that night
 But Mike made up the 7th.

Where'er he goes or whatever he does
 I'll love him just the same.
 He may be my love, my love he may be,
 And our love will always be plain.

He lives at 101 South Seventh Street,
 His number is 785,
 I love him very much you see—
 And when he leaves I'll die.

Popeye likes his spinach,
 Mike likes spaghetti and meat,
 Skippy like his Malt-o-meal,
 Guess what I like to eat.

Mr. McDowell in Spanish Class:
 "Where is the Field of Flanders?"

Darlene Painter: "Well, it was in Europe, but it's in France now."

Written on the blackboard in the typing room: "Have you made your date for the Senior Class Play—get it from Waddell."

Maybe he meant tickets, but who knows?

Beulah Schaad wonders why her name is never in the Lookout column any more. Probably everyone knows her well enough to look out for her anyway.

NOVEL PROGRAMS.

Many new features were included in the senior class play programs. In addition to the cast there was a short history of the play, history of the class, jokes, and questions concerning M. H. S. teachers.

Ralph Redmond went hunting over the week-end and bagged a ground hog, a crow and a snake.

PLACE IN NATIONAL; BAND PICNIC MONDAY

Will Play for Kiwanis Benefit at Park Tomorrow Night;
Perform Saturday

John and Robert Kritzer placed in the second division and John McDonald in the third in the National Band Solo Contest at Cleveland, Ohio, May 14, 15, and 16.

Members of the high school band were entertained by the Band Parents' Club with a picnic at Monmouth Park Monday evening. Games were enjoyed after school and supper was served at 6:15.

After supper Allan McCaslin led in some competitive games.

The band will play at the shelter house in the park tomorrow night at 7:30. This concert which will be given by a picked band because of lack of music, is sponsored by the Kiwanis to raise money for the band shell which is being constructed at the park.

As has been the custom in past years the band will take part in the Memorial Day activities Saturday.

As to future plans Mr. Lynch asks that all those interested in playing in the band next year see him and get started this summer.

WERTZ, ASSISTANT, GETS $1200 AT COLUMBIA U.

John Wertz, a graduate of Monmouth High School and later of Monmouth College, has been appointed head lecture assistant in general chemistry in Columbia University for the year 1936-37. The award is valued at $1,200 and will allow Mr. Wertz to continue his graduate work for a Ph. D. degree.

EIGHT RECORDS FALL; SENIORS WIN ANNUAL INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

History repeated itself Friday afternoon when the seniors won the open interclass track meet. The seniors had won the other interclass held earlier in the year. They also won both interclass meets last year.

Eight new records were set. Art Johnson set two new records in the shot put and javelin. "Cardy" Shunick set two records in the high and low hurdles. The final standing of the meet was Seniors 83½; Juniors 62½; Sophomores 38, and Freshman 19.

SHUNICK'S SPORTS SHORTS

Dave Turnbull '33 should make the football team at Illinois next year, according to the Chicago Tribune. Dave is playing center.

"Bud" Johnson is probably the only one from M. H. S.—or at least the only one in a long time—to place in the state meet.

Gale Switzer ran a 52.5 quarter but did not qualify in the preliminaries.

Ashton and Hardine of Galesburg qualified in the low hurdles in the preliminaries, but lost out in the semi-finals.

Coach Jebens is planning to take his entire squad to the Forth Madison Relays, May 30.

Several high school students are playing baseball at the park this year in the softball league.

An unusual occurrence was witnessed by the Monmouth track squad at Champaign last Saturday. The official of the pole vault officiated 181 tries in the vault and in that many tries the total height vaulted was 2,911½ feet more than a half-mile high. This is something unusual at a track meet.

"Billy" Stephens lost to Curtis Corbige in the first round match of the tennis tournament last week.

"Drex" Moore has taken up golf. He has been practicing and says he likes it a lot.

Mildred Camp '36, and Ruth E. Abbey '36, competed recently in a bowling tournament. Martha Tresham won the girls' high three-game average, and received a prize. Other competitors were Mary Frazer '33, and Janet Carns '33.

GONGSTERS

Major Bowes and a unit of his amateurs entertained members and friends of the West Side U. P. Church last Monday evening. Randall Hyde impersonated the Major. Just who of the many young people who took part "got the gong" was not disclosed.

Those from high school who participated were: Marion Brouse, Marcella Peterson, Dorothy Peterson, Beverly Olson, and Louise Lusk.

ELMHURST WINS 42ND ANNUAL TRACK MEET AT ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

Two Records Shattered, Marks Set in Two New Events; Johnson Fifth

York High School, Elmhurst, won the forty-second annual State Track Meet at the University of Illinois a week ago Saturday morning. Two new records were set and new records were made in both hurdle races since this was the first time these events were run.

Art Johnson placed fifth in the javelin for Monmouth's only point. This is the first time, probably, that Monmouth has ever placed in the state. Art's best throw was 166 ft. 10 in.

"Chet" Smith, local sports fan, took the relay team and Johnson to the meet in the absence of Coach Jebens, who went to Yankton, S. D., last week. Henry Smith furnished the transportation for the boys.

Sharp of Grant, set a new shotput record with a put of 53 ft. 1 in. breaking the old record of 53 ft. ½ in. set by Corso of Hillsdale, who took third this year. The other record was made in the relay by York. The time was 1:29.8 breaking the old record set by York last year of 1:30.2.

Collinge of Maine Township High set a record in the high hurdles at 14.7 and Jones of New Trier set a record in the low hurdles at 23.4.

Moline, placing third in the relay, was the only other Northwest school to place in the meet. Their time was 1:31.2.

Not In The "Mood."

Many local fans were displeased to hear that the M. H. S. relay team did not compete because Shunick and Switzer did not feel "in the mood" for running.

Some of the individual stars were Emigh of Kankakee, who placed first in the 220 and third in the hundred. Denny of Rockford, placed second in both hurdle races. Darmstadt of York won the quarter and was anchor man in the relay. Harrison of Alton won the discus and was fourth in the shot-put.

New Trier (Winnetka) were runners-up in the meet with 14 points. York won the meet with 20 points.

After the track meet the boys were entertained by the Tribe of Illini, in the skating rink where a lunch was served and speeches were made by Director of Athletics Huff and Coach Bob Zuppke. In the afternoon the boys attended the Purdue-Illinois track meet and Illinois Michigan double-header baseball game. In the evening they saw the interscholastic circus given by the university students in the armory.

Friends of Phyllis Stromine take it for granted that Clipper reporters are just bad spellers and are always mixing her name up with that of Phyllis Strobel.

Lois Campbell, Josephine F. mano, Mary Louise Freed, Margery Gillen, Margery Dellinger and Ruth Norris, have received wrist watch for graduation.

Ruth Camp and Frances Co. hiked to the park Sunday afternoon a week ago.

PROM DRAWS 275

More than 275 were present at the annual junior-senior prom held Saturday night in the upstairs ballroom at the armory. The room was beautifully decorated, the turquoise blue false ceiling and other light colors creating an under-sea effect for the "aquarium" prom.

At eight o'clock a grand march was led by Loren Jenks and Joan Martin, president and vice-president of the junior class. Ten dances were then enjoyed, music being furnished by Dana Bushong's orchestra. Between dances fancy squawkers, serpentine, and confetti were given to the guests.

About ten o'clock a pleasing dessert course was served followed by a short toast program. Loren Jenks, presiding, welcomed the senior guests. Senior president, Williard McMasters, responded. Mr. Lyons spoke for the faculty.

In spite of the heat, everyone enjoyed the evening.

RECUPERATING.

Robert McMillan spent Saturday a week ago on a farm near Cameron.

Margaret Leonard returned home Friday, May 15, from the hospital after having an operation for appendicitis. She is regaining strength rapidly.

BENZOL CLEANERS

WANDERERS RETURN AGAIN.

Keith Rayburn, Paul Anderson, and Irvin Sage returned home Thursday from a week's vacation (?) in Iowa.

MAID GOES A-FISHING.

Ruth Camp went fishing Saturday at the 3-M pond.

Katheryn Hose Hager spent the week end with Wanda Sward.

Forrest Strickler plans to go to Kansas on a two or three weeks' vacation as soon as school is out.

Mary Ellen Rowley spent the week-end with Josephine Parrish. Friday night they attended the play, Saturday night the prom, and Sunday night they really went to church to revival meetings.

Charles Turner '39 is quite undecided whether to sell his mode of transportation to and from school, a loyal depleted bicycle. He says, "The thing gets me there, but the offer is so good and school is soon ending, so I believe I'll sell it."

Lloyd Neally '37 was absent Tuesday for dental treatment.

The Private Life of the Class of '36

As Read in the Senior Assembly.

We've had not less than a few ideas for this assembly this morning, such as: "Good evening ladies and gentlemen, this is Fred Allen and his Town Hall Tonight program," or "Jell-o again, this is Jack Benny broadcasting the twenty-seventh number of the Jell-o series," and the inevitable Mary Livingston with her poem, "Spring, Spring, Beautiful Spring!" And, Portland with her "Tally-ho." But after thinking seriously about the matter we have decided to be just our ordinary selves as we think we will appear ten years from now. We are now going to present a preview of that book you have all been waiting for, "The Private Life of the Class of '36."

Here Comes The Bride

In the beginning the class had as one of its members the famous personage of Russell Waddell. We, after much bribing and talking, have secured a baby picture of Russell when he was but a mere child of four years. (Book opens and Russell appears in short pants, and has a sucker in his mouth.)

Now the scene changes. Sweet music is heard and the lights are dimmed. The church is magnificent with its floral fragrance, and "Here Comes the Bride!" (Book opens, music is played, Marion Brouse and Mary Louise Bolon appear.)

The next page tells of a crowded city, red, white and blue banners and patriotic music, and the inauguration of the president of 1956. (Book opens and John Harney appears in a silk hat, frock coat and monocle and cane in hand). You all smile and say, "I told you so."

Brief Cases.

As the story moves on we encounter an intelligent-looking person with an armful of note books and brief cases. I say brief cases, because this person is a lawyer and most of her cases are brief. (Josephine Romano.)

And again the book opens and standing in the doorway of a cute little cottage in a pink and white checked apron—the girl is in the apron, not the cottage—we see Ruth Norris, the perfect home-maker. (Ruth comes out in an apron and has a cook book in her hands.)

The next chapter tells of a huge office with Ruth Tippett, Rosemary Bailey, Martha Allsup, Ellen Norman, Betty Ann Stewart and Ruth Glenn as secretaries pounding furiously at their typewriters. A clock on the wall points its hands to ten o'clock. The door is opened and all eyes are turned on that man of stock market and wall street fame, Willard McMaster. He is late again, but then, he can afford to be late because he is healthy, wealthy and wise, too! (Book opens and Willard appears wearing suit, hat and carries a cane.)

Another page of the story shows us a glimpse of Hollywood and one of its adorables, Evelyn Lincoln.

Then we go back to an Illinois farm and its none other than Bill Pullen with a straw between his teeth and another on his head. Still just a hayseed and still just Bill.

W. R. Hearst

But now in Chicago we see a newspaper editor's office. The reporters are James Parke, Harry Parker, Charles Russell with Helen Winbigler doing the want ads and Orpha Raglin covering the society for the city. And as chief editor with his green eye shade and his inevitable grin, we have John Shontz. (Book opens.) Another William Randolph Hearst, perhaps.

Now for New York with its glamour, its bright lights and gay night life; on the opera bills appear the name of Lucile Leonard, Margaret Gummerson, and Garnet Murdock. To think they used to sing in a night club. (Lucile Leonard enters). Now Lucile is making her debut in a grand opera. How times do change!

In the same city we visit a fashion salon and there promenading on the luxurious velvet carpets before mirrors of immeasurable length, are those glamorous mannequins, Jane McMillan and Maxine Winbigler. (They parade across the stage.)

Missionaries.

And far off across the sea we try to catch a glimpse of that worthy person trying to teach the gospel to the neathen Chinese and we are at last rewarded by a glimpse of Mildred Evelyn Camp, Monmouth's most famous missionary. Her helpers in this great field are Genevieve Murphy and Dolores Melburg. What a strange place this turned out to be.

Now back to civilized country and we glance into one of America's swankiest night clubs, that is, if we can get past George McKelvey, door-keeper and bouncer. Then a voice gurgles into the mike: "Hell-o, everyone, this is Frankie Nussle and all his itty-bits boys broadcasting their heavenly music from the rose room in the Ritz Hotel overlooking the sparkling waters of Lake Michigan. With us tonight is our guest artist, Robert McVey. (Nussle appears.) Remember 'way back when, when Frankie had an orchestra that sounded like a combination of German rhythm and the modern jazz? Now I shall have to offer my deepest apologies.

Still Waiting.

Now we, yes, you'll agree with me, we mean is we, to an All-American football game and the captain of the team is Cardy Shunick. Over there in the grandstand is Elizabeth Linman still waiting patiently. Also on the team are those two huskies, Henry Smith and Drexel Moore.

And if some of you decide to go to some mountains or other you might encounter Gale Switzer sitting by his cabin door, strumming his faithful guitar, with no one but the moon for company; and he is singing—Gale is doing the singing—not the moon, "She'll be comin' 'round the mountain when she comes." We don't know exactly who she is, but we can all try to guess.

And last but not least, I am going to introduce to you that famous leader of all dictators, Jack Mozellini!

The book now closes, and when anyone should ask, "Have you read any good books lately?" I hope you will add to your list, The Private Life of the Class of '36.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Students interested in taking summer school work for high school credit are asked to get in touch with Mr. Jackson. The following courses will be offered: Community Civics, Economics, Social Problems, and Advanced Civics.

High school courses in mathematics will be offered when registrations are in sufficient numbers to justify such courses. Work will begin at the college June 15, and will continue for six weeks.

MEET GRADS.

While at the state track meet the local cinder artists met a number of M. H. S. grads who are now attending the University of Illinois. Among them were: Reid Campbell, David Turnbull, Max Reynolds, "Bud" Kell, Russell Parrish, "Bob" Armstrong, and Lea Rodgers.

BICYCLE CASUALTIES

Bicycle riding seems to be a rather dangerous sport. Friday evening of last week Jeanne Davis fell off of one and skinned her knee. After walking into the house she fainted. She recovered before Monday morning and came back to school. On Tuesday evening of this week Joanne Davis and Hubert Wiseman had an accident on bicycles. Joanne injured both elbows so badly she was unable to come to school Wednesday. Hubert's wrist and arm was injured but he survived enough to appear at school Wednesday. It must be safer to walk.

PLANS ON DISPLAY

Mechanical drawing students have been working on sketches of houses. A variety of types have been drawn including farm houses, schools, and modern constructions. Mr. Nelson has put four of these drawings on display in the assembly bulletin board. Others have been in the Torley Hardware Store window.

WANT NEW NAME

New names for Senior Sneak Day are in demand. The seniors don't really sneak, they ask permission. But here are a few suggestions: Senior Holiday, Senior Day Off, Judgment Day, Class of '36 Day, Play Day, and last but not least "Attle Day."

ASSEMBLY

The first part of the assembly Wednesday afternoon was conducted by members of the senior class play. The cast was introduced by Marjorie Dellinger, and each person introduced gave some small line from the play.

In the last part of the program Supt. Roy Fetherston gave a brief illustrated talk on the school situation.

BANQUET

Richard Soral has quit school.

Last Will and Testament

As Read in the Senior Assembly.

The last will and testament of the senior class of 1936, City of Monmouth, State of Illinois, made and published this 26th day of May, in the year of our Lord, One thousand nine hundred and thirty-six. We, the members of the graduating class of M. H. S. being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament in the manner following, that is to say:

We direct that all just debts and expenses be paid as soon as possible.

We leave Charles Anderson and Marion, otherwise "Tickie," Burgess' devotion to Jack Porter and Betty Lou Burford.

We will part of William Adair's height to Billy Tresham. He might need it next year.

We leave Josephine Adair's sweet ways and loving sympathy for Mr. Kelly, to whoever might want it.

Ruth Elaine Abbey and Ellen McNamara leave their panhandle giggles to those new freshmen girls.

Beulah Schaad leaves her orneryness to any underclassman who promises to use it on Miss Blau.

Martha Jane Campbell leaves her charming personality to Betty Stewart, or to anyone else who thinks he or she can take it.

We bequeath Mary Jane "Red" Martin's flaming black hair to Earl McKinnon.

Harrison Hardgrove wills his place in ninth hour room to whichever person gets there first, probably, Dale Rayburn.

Margery Dellinger, leaves her brunette beauty to "Jerry" Taylor. Barbara Vercoe leaves her cov and cunning ways to Betty Smith. Not that Betty needs them, though. Naturally not—much.

Jack Erickson leaves his famous ability for orations and speeches to Ernie Crow.

Mary, "Let's Get Togethr," Lipps, says she doesn't leave Lyle Ryan to anyone. She'll take him with her.

Ellen Strobel leaves her Gowerie atmosphere to any girl who doesn't like Radio Girl Perfume. By the way, Gowerie is a town in Iowa and not an odor.

Charles "Farmer" Russell wills his ability for making E's to those students, or can we call them students, who have been getting U's all their lives.

Aileen Armstrong's quiet ways will go to Ruth Moffet. That's a break for the school anyway, maybe.

Ruth Elsberry's ability to haunt Mr. Butler will go to Helen L. Stewart. Another redhead by the way.

Maybelle Thomas leaves her smile to Marion McCone. She needs it.

Arthur, Betty, Violet, and Marjorie Johnson, not brothers and sisters but all members of the great Swedish clan, leave their Swedish names to all the Johnsons who will be seniors next year.

Mary Frances Lauver, Aileen Lee, and Carolyn Leonard will their charms to those nationally known Monmouth High School flappers, Betty Lou Mikesell, Margaret Smiley, and "Peggy" Shaffenberg.

Audrey Kettering and Kathleen Kitterman leave their ability as hill billy yodlers to some other poor guy besides Harriet Needham.

Rosella Morris, and Cecil McCann will their clever ability in skipping school successfully to those new seniors who haven't as yet acquired the technique.

Ina Mae Patterson leaves Jack Ryan some spare time.

Mildred Parrish, Anna Marie and Dora Mae Adams will their places in Mr. Jackson's "pen" for chewing gum to anyone who wants them, but—no one does!

Orville Bertelesen, Jack Barry, and Donald Baldrige leave their ways with the women to Forrest "Junior" Strickler.

Esther Brown, Frank Brownell, and Irene Brown leave their best wishes to the Browns and "greens" of the next year.

Ferne Butler, Marie Carwile, and Roberta Carrier leave their ability to carve hearts and arrows on school desks to any lovesick underclassman who will graduate in five years too.

James Davison can't make up his mind about what to leave. It's certain he can't leave Ada Virginia.

Elizabeth Birbari, Alice Blackstone, and Marjorie Barnett will their technique of gossiping over the back yard fence to any talkative junior.

Manus Doore and LaVerne Nelson leave their "Wild West" or other literature that they read in study halls to whoever is interested.

Evelyn Goddard, Mary Haben, Leon Fernald, Madeline Foote, Clifton Foster, Mary Freed, Margaret Gillen, and Edward Glenn leave a feeling of peace and contentment, like the contented cow, you know.

Irma Hanna, Joseph McIntyre, Dorothy Peterson, Jennie Hanson, and Frank Hart will their freckles and curls to the juniors.

Marilouise Hite wills her sophistication and form to Constance Brown.

Jane Irely and Adeline Knepp will just leave. But that's all right with us—no loss there.

Earl Vines, Ralph Redmond, Mildred Thompson, Louis Sloss, and Harry Shellenberger will also leave—they will return to kindergarten next year to complete their failures.

Lloyd Ross and Robert Rouse leave their ability to betray the fairer sex to Harold Menely and Fred Shaw.

William Thompson and Dorothy Ann Rowley leave with the rest of us, A. W. O. L., they hope!

Malcolm McKenzie leaves his dirty neck and feet to some fair skinned student—maybe, Marjorie Schumaker.

Harold Smallwood wills his southern accent to anyone who thinks he can shove it any faster.

Lastly:—We hereby nominate and appoint G. Ray Imbody, principal of Monmouth High School, of the City of Monmouth, County of Warren, State of Illinois, to be the executor of this last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills and testamentary instruments made.

In witness thereof we have heretunto subscribed our name and set our seal this 26th day of May in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty six.

Senior Class of 1936.
